

JOB POSTING
HEAD GARDENER
HORTULUS FARM
2/19/18

Job Description

Head gardener for a notable and distinguished American public garden. Hortulus Farm is a 100-acre, 18th-century farmstead and pleasure garden in Bucks County, PA boasting 24 individual gardens on 30 of its acres, It is a member of Greater Philadelphia Gardens and an Affiliate Garden of The Garden Conservancy. It has been featured in multiple publications, including Private Edens, Fine Gardening, House & Garden, Fine Gardening, Veranda, Flower, Country Gardener, and The New York Times. The Great Gardens of The Philadelphia Region said of Hortulus Farm: "18th and 19th Century buildings are surrounded by such horticultural opulence that the scene registers as both sublimely serene and surreal."

Duties & Responsibilities

Head Gardener. Certainly a very visible job description over time along the lines of British Head Gardeners, our friend Fergus Garrett at Great Dixter being a prime example. Propagation and growing from seed in the winter months in our 40,000 sq. feet of greenhouse and managing and tending the gardens with our long time farm manager in season. Interfacing with some of our 5,000 annual visitors with the eventual potential of leading tours of the gardens.

Education and Experience

This is a full time position with excellent long term potential. At least five years of experience necessary. Salary commensurate with resume and experience.
